Dresden and East Bowdoinham parties shipped forty-two barrels of shod to Boston the other day, on the steamer.

Mr. A. W. Hall will superintend the publication of the Bowdoin Republic, during the absence of S. W. Matthews, who has accepted the position of Labor Commissioner.Mr. Hall is the son of J. B. Hall of the Bowdoin Herald, and is a practical printer, with editorial experience.

Uncle Sam is looking after the higher powers, and has not, as usual, taken out a United States license. And the State is ready to gobble them up the minute they take out such a license. They are virtually "between the devil and the deep sea," and there is but one alternative, to go out of the business.

Three Canadian surveyors are surveying the new road of culture between Showboat and the international road. They have got as far as The Forks. At the meeting Friday, when the incorporators organized, $450,000 was subscribed and the requisite 5 per cent., $22,500, paid in. The building of the road seems to be assured.

Ex-Gov. Sidney Perham, Mrs. Perham and their two daughters, arrived in Portland Thursday evening, and Mr. C. D. when they spent the winter. Judging from his appearance, Mr. Perham's health is decidedly better than it was last fall. They go to their home in Paris, Oxford county.

At the large cattle show at Madison Garden, in New York city, last week, the animals were put up for sale, and the auction was Garotas, for which Mr. A. B. Darling, the owner of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, has reserved $40,000. She is now 15 years old, and once produced eighty-eight pounds six ounces of butter in a month, or nearly three pounds a day.

Speaking of the introduction of the new pony race at the Fair, Mr. Charles E. Bailey, of Augusta, took out of his pocket and exhibited to Wm. R. Smith, Esq., a single potato of the Early Rose variety, for which he had paid one dollar and fifty cents. Afterwards he purchased in New York city, for $100,000, twenty-five thousand dollars worth of seed, to be sown in his fields, at a cost of four dollars! High priced as they were, it proved a good investment, for they yielded bountifully, and Mr. Bailey sold the crop for three hundred dollars, retaining enough for seed for the next season.

What is thought to be the original manuscript of "Home, Sweet Home" was buried in the ground at Haverhill, Mass., on April 24, Sunday. She was John Howard Payne's sweetheart, but rejected his offer of marriage on account of her father's objection. Payne corresponded regularly with her, sending her another thing the original manuscript of his famous song.

The Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, whose president was made by his friends and wife to membership was made.

Poetry.

For the Maine Farmer.

Intemperance.
Dear friend, you often ask me
Why I love this temperance cause so well,
But when you hear what I have to tell:

Once I was a noble at the hotel,
With grace and gaiety at the board!
And then a pang of sorrow lodged
In my heart, and I quaked.

A few years passed, and he whom I
Had driven in vain to save,
Put me in prison, and I quaked,

Into a drunkard's grave.

And friend, if you will listen,

I'll tell you of my love,

Of my love, but, oh! bring back,

In the valley of the shadow of death.

The lotus trees were venture,

Towering toward the sunnier sky;

To the grim granite rocks,

Whose grey grottoes open,

As it was in the old by-gone.

The lotus trees were waiting,

To the grim granite rocks,

Answered from the Western sea.

A song of gladness, music,

With voices clear and bright,

For the wild chimes to over,

And the gay glee of the young,

As it was in the old by-gone.

The lotus trees were waiting,

To the grim granite rocks,

Answered from the Eastern sea.

A song of gladness, music,

With voices clear and bright,

For the wild chimes to over,

And the gay glee of the young,

As it was in the old by-gone.

The lotus trees were waiting,

To the grim granite rocks,

Answered from the Western sea.

A song of gladness, music,

With voices clear and bright,

For the wild chimes to over,

And the gay glee of the young,

As it was in the old by-gone.

The lotus trees were waiting,
